MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT : Request to Address the American Society for Industrial Security, 1030, 16 September 1958

1. On 9 April Milton D. Ladd, former Assistant Director of the FBI and currently the Executive Director of the American Society for Industrial Security, came in to ask if you would accept an invitation to deliver the keynote address opening the annual convention of the Society. The convention this year will deal with the theme "The Scientist, Engineer and Security." They expect to have about 500 delegates to the convention, which will be held at The Shoreham, and are anxious to have you as their principal speaker. Mr. Ladd left me the attached brochure and quarterly publication.

2. I have checked with Security who advised me that this organization consists of the principal security officers of all of the major corporations in the United States and that several of our former employees are members. You will note that [redacted] was the principal speaker at last year's convention. It is possible that this might be a good media to talk to individuals with whom both our Security Office and Con- [redacted] deal.
